Rationale	The partnership between the College and University of Hertfordshire facilitates the acquisition of an undergraduate degree by international students who, because of their previous educational experience, are not normally able to gain direct access to the University's degree courses. The pathway has therefore been developed to satisfy important pedagogical issues: 1. To ensure that international students have a dedicated period of time, in a familial and safe setting, to adjust to and acquire the skills to prepare for further studies within a western learning environment. 2. To satisfy the University's quality protocols, which in turn are directed by the QAA Subject Benchmark requirements, for articulation purposes. 3. Facilitate access to a pathway leading to a University degree award. 4. Protect the entry tariff of the University to its degree courses and ensure that the University does not need to lower its entry tariff in order to increase its international student population. 5. Widen access and participation in higher education in line with the University's internationalisation agenda. 6. Commit to the provision of best practice customer service and student experience for international students and thus add value to the University's award winning student lifestyle. 7. Support the integrity of the University's QAA commitment by adopting and adapting the University's quality regime to form the basis of a robust, quality driven academic provision and administrative systems and processes. 8. Facilitate effective and efficient, low risk public/private partnership in line with the University's strategic research mission. 9. Enhance the global reach of the University into previously untapped markets and market segments. 10. Add resource, human and financial, to the University's marketing process. 11. Facilitate access to a global recruitment process. 12. Assist in the diversification of the student body. 13. Make available the benefits derived from access to Navitas' global reach and corporate marketing arm.
Educational Aims	The programme, University Foundation in Creative Arts is offered for 2 Semesters, and has been devised in accordance with Navitas UK general educational aims along with those formulated for the College, and the nominated outcomes desired by University of Hertfordshire, School of Creative Arts, to impart a high quality of education in the disciplines required. The educational aims of the programme are to: 1. Prepare students, who would not normally be considered qualified, to an appropriate standard for entry into the HIC First Year degree in Creative Arts at FHEQ Level 4. 2. To endow each individual with an educational pathway that augments opportunities for professional employment and development in the Creative Industries at both a national and international level. 3. Develop in students a fundamental knowledge and understanding that can demonstrate an understanding of practical, critical, contextual and cultural factors so as to support their transfer into the HIC First Year Degree in Creative Arts at FHEQ Level 4 and on successful completion therein to the University of Hertfordshire prescribed degree schemes. 4. Develop in students an appreciation and desire to learn based on competent intellectual and practical skills building to a set of transferable skills that will support them in all aspects of their onward academic studies/careers and assist informed decision making.

5. Ensure that students have attained the prescribed level of inter-disciplinary language competence described as Level B2 'Independent User' by the Council of Europe, see Common European Framework of Reference for languages: Learning, teaching assessment 2001, Council of Europe, CUP, Cambridge, p. 24, Table 1. Common Reference Levels: global scale.

6. Ensure that graduates have attained the prescribed level of inter-disciplinary language competence to a minimum pass mark of 50% in the ACL accredited/Navitas English module Interactive Learning Skills and Communication, and therein a minimum 6.0 IELTS equivalent..

Intended Learning Outcomes	Generic:
	All modules have a set of Generic Learning Outcomes (LOs) attached to them, see relevant Definitive Module Documents (DMDs). These provide a basic set of core transferable skills that can be employed as a basis to further study and life-long learning. They are delivered using an interdisciplinary and progressive approach underpinned by the relevant Interactive Learning Skills and Communication (ILSC) module, to build these core skills within the context of subject-specific learning. Incorporated in these core skills are the key themes of relationship-management, time management, professional communication, technological and numerical understanding and competency.

The Generic LOs for the programme are tabled below:

Key knowledge will be demonstrated by:	Key skills will be demonstrated by the ability to:
Personal organisation and time management skills to achieve research goals and maintain solid performance levels.	Meet converging assessment deadlines – based on punctuality and organisation with reference to class, group and individual sessions within a dynamic and flexible learning environment with variable contact hours and forms of delivery.
Understanding of the importance of attaining in-depth knowledge of terminology as used in a given topic area, as a basis to further study.	Communicate clearly using appropriate nomenclature to enhance meaning in all oral and written assessments with no recourse to collusion or plagiarism.
Understanding, knowledge and application of appropriate and effective methods of communication to meet formal assessment measures.	Present clearly, coherently and logically in a variety of oral and written formats using a variety of appropriate qualitative and quantitative tools and evidence bases.
Understanding and knowledge as to the development of the industry and/or scholarship in relation to a given topic under study.	Demonstrate an understanding of the current themes of a given topic, the academic and practical foundation on which they are based – demonstrated by a lack of plagiarism and need for collusion in both individual and group work.
Understanding of the rules applying to plagiarism and collusion.	Collate, summarise, reason and debate/argue effectively on a given topic with appropriate reference to another's work or ideas/concepts.
Ability to work as an individual, in a small team and in a larger group to effect data collation, discussion and presentation of evidence.	Meet and succeed in each of the varied assessments presented.

Specific:
Module-based LOs are described as Specific LOs and combine to make up the Intended LOs of the programme/stage of study. Specific LOs for a module are fully expressed in the relevant DMD and Module Content Guide (MG).

Intended:

Each programme/stage of study incorporates a set of Intended LOs to define the wider academic-based knowledge and skills acquisition. These key areas are described and tabled below:

A	Knowledge and Understanding
	Knowledge and understanding:	Teaching/learning methods and strategies:	Assessment methods
1	Recall and explain the cultural, historical, critical, contextual, theoretical and practical issues that inform contemporary creative art practice.	Acquisition of Intended LOs via a combination of small group lectures and critiques (listening, practical, writing and reading); small group-based tutorial/practical coursework (oral, reading, listening and written presentation); workshops and individual coursework (oral, written and practical presentation). In addition, learning outcomes, will be developed through group debates. Additional support is provided through the provision of small peer-led tutorial group work and of individual tutorial support; College module-specific subject specialists delivering modules; guest speakers (industry/topic specific); monitoring by College academic management. Students are encouraged to interact with teaching staff and academic services to ensure that they understand assessment requirements and that their work is aligned with marking criteria. Ensuring all candidates acquire grounding in University of Hertfordshire and associated end-user IT platforms for academic study. The opportunity to interface regularly with noted platforms in College, University of Hertfordshire library and independent environments to develop an understanding of the implications of the use of different e-learning for research. The Programme Specification, DMDs, Module Guide, reading lists, lecturers and notes, and assessment regimes are available via the College e-learning portal for queries to be met. Students are encouraged throughout the stage of study to undertake independent study both to supplement and consolidate what is being taught/learnt and to broaden their individual knowledge and understanding of the subject. Feedback is given to all students on all work produced and, where appropriate, confirmed in individual appraisal events associated with modules and specifically ILSC. Additional interviews are made with the tutor and/or the College academic services to evaluate and discuss any emerging learning issues and therein candidates options.	A.1 to A.8 – a combination of summative (closed-book) examinations and summative coursework along with written assignments, portfolios and in-course assessments/tests, computer-based coursework and tests, project reports, presentations and practicals.
2	Identify and explain the creative processes and subject-specific language within the fields of art, design, film, music and media.
3	Recall and explain the study skills necessary for contemporary creative art practice in a Western education environment, including the use of appropriate technologies.
4	Define and discuss the basic components of major formal theories and different areas of debate within mass communications
5	Identify and explain the methods of communication and the technologies applied within specific areas of creative art practice.
6	Recall and explain what a business is and its internal and external functions – from securing external funding to measuring success within a business.
7	Apply ICT as a fundamental tool to edit/enhance pictures, moving images and sounds
8	Apply techniques and forms of effective and clear communication in a variety of academic and professional settings in accordance with Level B2 'Independent User' as described by the Council of Europe

	B	Intellectual Skills
		Intellectual skills: able to	Teaching/learning methods and strategies	Assessment methods
	1	Make full use of library and College/University e-learning search (catalogue and bibliographic) resources.	Acquisition of B.1 and B.2 via topic specific small group lectures and the additional support and guidance provided via the provision of small peer-led tutorial group work in differing environments.	B.1 to B.5 – a combination of summative (closed-book) examinations and summative coursework along with written assignments, portfolios and in-course assessments/tests, computer-based coursework and tests, project reports, presentations and practicals.
	2	Generate, critically evaluate and apply a personal direction within creative practice
	3	Integrate oral, written, listening, reading, non-verbal and diagrammatic skills to effect clear communication.	Ensuring all students acquire grounding in the university of Hertfordshire and associated end-user IT platforms for academic study.
	4	Demonstrate ability to develop ideas through to material outcomes in chosen media at a competent level.	The opportunity to interface regularly with noted platforms in College, University of Hertfordshire library and independent environments to develop an understanding of the implications of the use of different e-learning for research.
	5	Develop creative language through the mastery of the basic skills required in specialist area of study.
			Acquisition of B.2 to B.5 via a combination of small group lectures (listening, writing and reading); small group-based tutorials / coursework (oral, reading, listening and written presentation); and individual coursework (oral, and written presentation) and summative examination (reading and writing).
			Additional support is provided through the provision of small peer-led tutorial group work and of individual tutorial support; College module-specific subject specialists delivering modules; guest speakers (industry/topic specific); monitoring and appraisal by College academic management.
	C	Practical Skills
		Practical skills: able to	Teaching/learning methods and strategies	Assessment methods
	1	Employ key communication skills appropriate to undergraduate study, inclusive of practical creative skills, written, oral, reading, speaking and presentation of information.	Communication skills are central to all teaching, class/lab-based learning and self directed study; these are tested out throughout all assessment practices. Students are encouraged to explore and develop variety of communication skills, underpinned by the ILSC module.	Integrated themes used across the continuous assessment framework for the programme to test robust coping skills in a number of environments.
	2	Competently plan and execute oral and written works appropriate to the discipline and level under study.		A combination of summative (closed-book) examinations and summative coursework along with written assignments, portfolios and in-course assessments/tests, computer-based coursework and tests, project reports, presentations and practicals.
	3	Experiment and manipulate a variety of materials, methods and techniques	Practical skills are gained through a variety of workshop activities.
	D	Transferable Skills
		Transferable skills: able to	Teaching/learning methods and strategies	Assessment methods
	1	Select, read, digest, summarise and synthesise information in an appropriate manner to identify and determine key facts/themes, relevancy and assessment of problems and identification and implementation of solutions.	Embedded in all aspects of delivery and assessment structures is the need to disseminate information presented in a variety of forms and modalities.	A combination of summative (closed-book) examinations and summative coursework along with written assignments and in-course assessments, computer-based coursework, project reports, portfolios and presentations. Indicating an ability to effectively manage a complex and flexible timetable, combining a variety of delivery and assessment modes,
	2	Use and clearly communicate discursive and diagrammatic ideas, concepts, results and conclusions	Using a combination of all delivery and assessment styles (oral and written, group and individual) used within the programme to using appropriate technical and non-technical language and language style, structure and form.	demonstrate competence in portfolio preparation, presentation, reports, timed-assignments (indicating knowledge, organisation, time management and clear communication ability), of the following: design a persuasive message from the audience's perspective; demonstrate effective presentation delivery skills in a variety of situations and formats; leave effective voice-mail messages; write persuasive E-mails, memos letters; and write factual essays and reports in plain English. These skills are reflective of in-context reading, writing, oral and speaking skills and enhanced language acquisition.	some of which are conflicting in submission and style (oral/written and individual/small group, to demonstrate effective organisation, self-reliance and time-management skills.

	3	Use and communicate ideas, concepts and conclusions using appropriate language and language style.
	4	Embed the importance of self-study and reliance. This involves cultivating and developing a responsibility within each student to take cognizance for their own learning, initiative, effective time-management and self-discipline within the academic and professional environments.
	5	Begin to develop a very good conceptual understanding and evaluation of the main aspects of the cognate area and the wider context.

Assessment Regulations	Summary:
	The programme is compliant with both the generic assessment regulations of Navitas UK and those of the College, see CPR QS9. Each module within the programme/stage of study has an associated Module Outline that may be broadened into a Definitive Module Document (DMD), either of which will be provided to students at the beginning of their studies. These documents offer generic information on the Aims and Specific LOs of the subject(s) under study, basic references and the attendance and notional contact requirements. They also include topics/subject areas of study and outlines of the assessment events.

Most modules have an associated textbook, as prescribed by the University's Module Outlines, and a specifically developed Introductory Module Guide (IMG) which includes the types of assessment activities employed, teaching methods, resources, assessment criteria and expectations, contact details of the tutor(s), referencing (if applicable) and submission/completion requirements. Contained is also a detailed lecture-by-lecture schedule of subjects students can be expected to cover over the teaching period. This acts as a useful reference for study and revision purposes. All assessments are designed to reflect and measure both an individual's and a cohort's achievement against the Specific LOs of the module and Intended LOs of the programme.

In-course practical, written, reading, listening and oral assessments are built into all modules through general interaction between tutors and students, student peer review and small group tutorials or individual tutorials/appraisals. Modes of assessment include essay/report writing, oral presentation (group or individual, and poster), portfolio, and e-based, in-class or take home exercises/tests.

All written assessments must follow certain criteria in style and submission as noted in the relevant Module Content Guides and Student Guide. This form of assessment is considered fundamental to a student's ability to communicate ideas and evidence with clarity, relevance and logic in a planned and organised manner. Plain writing style, syntax and grammar are core skills that can be enhanced to support the maturing of individual students' composition and thus academic and transferable proficiency.

Oral and practical presentations, whether part of formal or informal assessment practice, are encouraged within all modules as they promote, among others, transferable skills and can identify those students who may be plagiarising material. It is advised, however, that they should not make up more than 60% of the final module mark unless as part of the learning rationale. Oral and practical group presentations should ideally contain no more than five (5) students, unless specific reasoning is applied. Each member, irrespective of their role, should be awarded the same mark unless where obvious differentiation arises, for management of this process see CPR QS9. This form of expression should not be allocated more than fifty (50) minutes per group, with less than a 30% weighting. Time limits must be upheld by tutors so as to ensure all students have the same opportunity to perform. Furthermore, tutors ought to notify students as to the materials available to them before preparation takes place. |

Formal assessment modalities (coursework and examination, respectively), combine to produce the weightings applied to any given module. Successful completion of a module is based on attaining the required overall pass grade prescribed. The assessment mode for a given module is based on the desired Specific LOs, their expressions can be found in the relevant DMD. Students must be briefed at the beginning of each module as to which weightings are in use. They should also be clearly advised as to the marking criteria and, hence, the achievement requirements for each grade cluster.

Where a student has a special need or disability, appropriate steps must be taken by the College, academic staff and/or internal/external invigilators to ensure that the need is recognised and a justified outcome identified, see CPR QS9.

Demonstration of achievement:
Students must pass all modules at the prescribed grade in order to progress to the next stage of their educational continuum, see Progression Criteria, below.

Categories of performance and grading levels:
A and A*(High Distinction) – Distinctive level of knowledge, skill and understanding which demonstrates an authoritative grasp of the concepts and principles and ability to communicate them in relation to the assessment event without plagiarism or collusion. Indications of originality in application of ideas, graphical representations, personal insights reflecting depth and confidence of understanding of issues raised in the assessment event.
B and B* (Distinction) – Level of competence demonstrating a coherent grasp of knowledge, skill and understanding of the assessment and ability to communicate them effectively without plagiarism or collusion. Displays originality in interpreting concepts and principles. The work uses graphs and tables to illustrate answers where relevant. Ideas and conclusions are expressed clearly. Many aspects of the student's application and result can be commended.
C and C*(Credit) – Level of competence shows an acceptable knowledge, skill and understanding sufficient to indicate that the student is able to make further progress. The outcome shows satisfactorily understanding and performance of the requirements of the assessment tasks without plagiarism or collusion. Demonstrates clear expression of ideas, draws recognisable and relevant conclusions.
D (Pass) – Evidence of basic competence to meet requirements of the assessment task and event without plagiarism or collusion. Evidence of basic acquaintance with relevant source material. Limited attempt to organise and communicate the response. Some attempt to draw relevant conclusions.
F (Fail) – The student's application and result shows that the level of competence being sought has not yet been achieved. The assessed work shows a less than acceptable grasp of knowledge, skill and understanding of the requirements and communication of the assessment event and associated tasks.

Generic marking criteria:
Response – the response must address all parts of the task / question, that is not just a part or parts of it. A response that is not specifically tailored to the needs of the task / question will not be accepted.
Structure – the student has identified the main issues of the task / question and attached the appropriate emphasis to them; has stated their agreement accurately and in some detail; and has utilised the supporting data.
Context – the student has displayed knowledge of the basic subject matter under assessment; has included only relevant material where required; has provided a written agreement or diagrammatic/modelled statement and, in doing so, has addressed all aspects of it in reaching a conclusion; and has provided a clear understanding of a task / question in reaching a conclusion.
Presentation – due credit, specified as a percentage of the marking criteria, will be given for a succinct and fluent writing style.
Illegible material will not be given due credit, specified as a percentage of the marking criteria.
Penalty – a student will be penalised if they have not tackled each issue of a task / question separately, stating their agreement and or rationalised progression, and then applying this to the facts; and will be penalised for not providing evidence of academically based reasoning in an answer.
Sources – the student should provide accurate referencing; it is essential that a student does not plagiarise from any source, see CPR QS9.

Moderation	See CPR QS9 – Summary: 10% sample of all assessment components by a subject specialist. External Examiner where necessary
Progression Criteria	Summary: Entrants are required to pass all semester one and two modules; the overall minimum pass mark is 50% averaged across all assessments; see CPR QS9.
Failure to Progress	Summary: a student may not fail a module on more than two (2) occasions, failure of the module once requires that a student re-take the entire module at full cost; failure of a student to complete a module on the re-take of that module will result in referral to the College Learning and Teaching Board for a student management decision. The University will not be incumbent to progress students who fail.
Associated Documentation	Definitive Module Documents (DMDs) as follows: DMD ILS001; DMD CAF100; DMD CAF102; DMD CAF104; DMD BUS106; DMD MAC101
	Module Guides (MGs) as follows: MG ILS001; MG CAF100; MG CAF102; MG CAF104; MG BUS106; MG MAC101
	Associated teaching aids for a module as required
	Associated Student Handbook
	College Policies and Regulations (CPRs)
Human Resource	Sessional academics (tutors) – with appropriate qualifications, experience and abilities. Guest speakers – relevant industries as requested by the College.
Built Environment	All lectures/classes and small group tutorials are held in the designated HIC/UH class rooms, seminar rooms, studios and dedicated IT laboratories; students are encouraged to use University of Hertfordshire 's library and e-learning facilities for self-directed study; students are encouraged to use their private IT facilities where possible; field-trips will be taken as required.

| Management | The University Foundation in Creative Arts programme is delivered by HIC on the College Lane campus of University of Hertfordshire. This scenario seeks to provide the necessary resources to ensure that all students enrolled with HIC are afforded an educational experience that not only provides assimilation into campus and student life but is aligned with the standards and protocols of the University experience.

The programme operates under and according to the general compliance structures determined by the Quality and Standards Office Navitas UK. This Office has oversight of all Navitas programmes operating in the UK. Any changes to a programme must be submitted via the normal Navitas UK processes through the Quality and Standards Office.

The general operational management of the programme lies with HIC's academic services which | assumes overall responsibility for the administrative and implementation functions. The HIC Manager of Academic Services or nominee is responsible for the day-to-day management of the programme inclusive of attendance monitoring. HIC provides additional tutorial support to any student who may require it, to the amount of two (2) extra contact hours per week per enrolled student. The various sessional academic module leaders/lecturers/tutors are responsible for the delivery and initial assessment of modules whilst appraisal of delivery and programme content is advised by the HIC Manager of Academic Services or nominee in consultation with the Quality and Standards Office Navitas UK, the Head of the School of Creative Arts and associated appropriate Programme Directors/Leaders and/or Link Tutor. The Learning and Teaching Board of the College, is identified as responsible for candidate selection to the HIC University Foundation in Creative Arts.

Monitoring and Review	Formal review of the University Foundation in Creative Arts programme, takes place as an annual review in March/April between HIC, the Quality and Standards Office Navitas UK and representation from the University of Hertfordshire School of Creative Arts. Strategic, logistical and operational issues are developed within the remit of the Academic and Operations Advisory Committee (AOAC) held on a trimester basis and chaired by University of Hertfordshire. Progression is determined via the HIC Board of Examiners. For details of this review and quality management of this and all HIC programmes, see, CPR QS9. Informal Review takes place on a regular basis via interface between students, academic services and the teaching staff using both student surveys (inclusive of i-graduate) and teaching observation and module surveys.
Entry Requirements	Standard and approved requirements for academic international benchmark qualifications, see CPR 3. English language entry is at CEFR level B2 in line with UKVI requirements for FHEQ6.

Knowledge and Understanding

A.1	Recall and explain the cultural, historical, critical, contextual, theoretical and practical issues that inform contemporary creative art practice.
A.2	Identify and explain the creative processes and subject-specific language within the fields of art, design, film, music and media.
A.3	Recall and explain the study skills necessary for contemporary creative art practice in a Western education environment, including the use of appropriate technologies.
A.4	Define and discuss the basic components of major formal theories and different areas of debate within mass communications
A.5	Identify and explain the methods of communication and the technologies applied within specific areas of creative art practice.
A.6	Recall and explain what a business is and its internal and external functions – from securing external funding to measuring success within a business.
A.7	Apply ICT as a fundamental tool to edit/enhance pictures, moving images and sounds
A.8	Apply techniques and forms of effective and clear communication in a variety of academic and professional settings in accordance with Level B2 'Independent User' as described by the Council of Europe,

Intellectual Skills

B.1	Make full use of library and College/University e-learning search (catalogue and bibliographic) resources.
B.2	Generate, critically evaluate and apply a personal direction within creative practice
B.3	Integrate oral, written, listening, reading, non-verbal and diagrammatic skills to effect clear communication.
B.4	Demonstrate ability to develop ideas through to material outcomes in chosen media at a competent level.
B.5	Develop creative language through the mastery of the basic skills required in specialist area of study.

Practical skills

C.1	Employ key communication skills appropriate to undergraduate study, inclusive of practical creative skills, written, oral, reading, speaking and presentation of information.
C.2	Competently plan and execute oral and written works appropriate to the discipline and level under study.
C.3	Experiment and manipulate a variety of materials, methods and techniques
