FAQS

1) I paid a deposit of £8000 and received a credibility visa refusal three weeks after registration started, do I receive a refund?

Yes – as long as the refusal was not due to fraud, and your attendance remained above 80%, you will be eligible for a refund of £6850.

2) I paid a deposit of £8000 and received a credibility visa refusal during the first week of registration, do I receive a refund?

Yes – as long as the refusal was not due to fraud, and your attendance remained above 80%, you will be eligible for a refund of £7850.

3) I paid a deposit of £8000 and received a credibility visa refusal during my second semester, do I receive a refund?

No – as you have completed a full semester, no refund for that semester will be available.

4) My situation isn't covered in the table, am I eligible for a refund if I withdraw from studies?

Please refer to the Terms and Conditions provided with your Unconditional Offer Letter for all other fee and refund eligibility.

5) I am withdrawing from the course following a visa refusal, and have received a refund. Will I receive a transcript or certificate from my course?

No. Where tuition fees are refunded, no transcript or certificate of completion of the course to that point will be available.
